FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Johannesburg, 04 AUGUST 2017

TETA is taking EmpowaWomen Leadership Summit to four provinces

The Transport Education Training Authority (TETA) is launching Empowawomen Leadership Summit in four provinces in partnership with Empowaworx. The first summit will take place on 10 August 2017.

The expected guest speakers across all four summits include Hon Ms Susan Shabangu (Minister of Women in the Presidency), Mrs Maphefo Anno-Frempong (CEO of Transport Education and Training Authority) and Hon Ms Sindisiwe Chikunga (Deputy Minister of Transport) as well as motivational speakers Billy Selekeane and Anthony Maurice.

This initiative addresses the national strategic imperative of women empowerment and acceleration of women leadership in the Transport Sector. It is an annual gathering of female leaders to discuss leadership trends and topics, best practices, challenges and opportunities in the globally connected world.

The delegates will learn how to grab new opportunities, drive organisational change, develop talent in others and contribute to their firms' ongoing success. They will acquire new skills for creating environments that propel innovation and creativity as they explore leadership best practices and exchange ideas with fellow leaders and peers from around the country.

Other strategic partners in this initiative include Road Traffic Infringement Agency (RTIA), Civil Aviation Authority (CAA), Free State Premier's Office, and both provincial and national transport departments.

The Summit is scheduled as follows:
